RELEASE COMES AT LAST

A PRETTY WOMAN GETS HER LIBERTY

A Philadelphia Belle Unworthily Confined for Twenty-seven Years in a Luna-tic Asylum—"Extravagance and Eccentricity" the Cause.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 14.—Miss Adrianna grated to the Western States with his wife Physick Brinckle has just been released and a boy about five years old. After Physick Brinckle has just been released from the State lunatic asylum, where she has been confined for twenty-seven years on the extraordinary charge of "extravagance and eccentricity." She is a daughter of the late Dr. Wm. Draper Brinckle, a physician who enjoyed a large practice and moved in the highest circles of society here thirty years ago. Miss Brinckle was an acknowledged belie, a woman of great beauty and accomplishments and a popular favorite. She was extremely extravagant, but an unfortunate change in the financial standing of her father made it impossible for him to pay her bills as he had always done. Before Adrianna was unable to overcome her extravagant tastes and without knowing anything of the law in such cases, ordered a piano and s t of furniture, which she sold before paying for them. This proceeding scandalized the set to which the Brinckles belonged and as it was stated at the time, to "save the family honor." Miss Brinckle was sent to the asylum, entering the institution July 1858. When the twelfth National Conference of charities and corrections met in Washington last June, one of the from the State lunatic asylum, where she some time he retired from business, ly 1858. When the twetth National Conference of charities and corrections met in Washington last June, one of the delegates made the following statement:

"A beautiful and charming young lady just ort of her teens, used to wealth, is extravagant and her father reduced in circumstances, finds himself unable to recircumstances, finds himself unable to re-strainher habit of spending, and concludes she requires custodial care, places her in a hospital heedless of her earnest protest. He dies and leaves her there, where she has been nearly thirty years and is now nearly sixty years of age and still begging to be released; but the custodians still thinks she needs 'custodial care' and she remains to this day under restraint of her personal liberty."

This led to an investigation and Miss Brinckle was visited at the State lunation

Brinckle was visited at the State lunatic asylum at Harrisburg and a committee reasyum at harrisoning and a committee re-ported that there was no evidence of in-sanity in her case. But still no release came and the unfortunate woman almost abandoned hope. When the representa-tives of the State committee on lunacy visited her, however, she began to hope again and her dreams of liberty were real-ized when the order came from the comized when the order came from the committee and she was sent out a free woman. Miss Brinckle is now a gray haired woman in the full possession of all her faculties and in good bodily health. She will probably go to New York and spend her declining years beneath the hospitable roof of a friend who was loyal to her during her investmental and who her during her imprisonment and who never relaxed her efforts to secure her re-lears.

The evidence taken before the justice upon the examination of Mrs. Hunter was read, and a petition which was signed was read, and a petition which was signed by the coroner and the jury who attended the inquest, together with many of the most prominent and well known citizens of Hinsdale, was presented. The Court decided to admit Mrs. Hunter to bail in the sum of $50.00, which was furnished by C. J. Atmidon, George Wellman, Newton Stearns and Nathan W. Worden, all of Hinsdale. The Court considered that the evidence failed to raise a strong presumption of guilt and hence under the statutes of this State the offence was ballable. There seems to be a growing conviction among those who heard the evidence and are most conversant with the facts that it are most conversant with the facts that it was a case of suicide instead of murder. This is quite evident from the character of the accused, and from Hunter's threats

Boston, August 13.—Between ten and fifteen thousand people witnessed the final contests in the thirteenth annual regatta of the National association of amateur oarsmen on the Charles river to-day. In the double scull contest were the followthe double scull contest were the following crews: Albany rowing club of Albany, N. Y., Middlesex rowing club of Cambridge, Mass., the City Point rowing association of Boston and the Crescent boat club crew of Boston. The Crescents had the best of the start and quickly obtained a lead of a length over the Middlesex crew, who were half a boat's length in front of Albany men, with the City Points close behind, on the outside of the Albany boat. As the Crescent pair spurted to the lead the Middlesex crew pulled over into the Albany's men's water, while the City Points by flanking the Albany men prevented them from rowing overto men prevented them from rowing over to avoid a foul with the Middlesex. Thus a foul became inevitable between either one or the other of the local crews and the Albany men. The Middlesex crew made the foul, one of their sculls striking the wind sail on the Albany shell and knocking it athwart ship where it remained as an obstruction throughout the race. By the foul they had lost some dozen. By the foul they had lost some dozen lengths and although they did some mag-nificent rowing over the remainder of the course the lead obtained by the Crescent pair was too great to be over-come. The Crescents won by two lengths. The Crescent crew refused to row the race over again, claiming that they were leading when the foul occurred; that they had nothing to do with it and they had won the race fairly on its merits. The referee, however, had wen the race fairly on its merits. The referce, however, thought that the fouling had destroyed the chances of the Albany crew for victory and upon the Crescents maintaining their decision not to row again the referee gave the race to the Albany pair, a protest being entered by the Crescents.

The other events were all very closely contested and were finished amid great ex-citement and enthusiasm. They resulted as follows:

Hardened Liver.

Five years ago I broke down with kidney and liver compiaint and rheumatism.

Since then I have been unable to be about at all. My liver became hard like wood; my limbs were puffed up and files) with water.

All the best physicians agreed that nothing could cure me. I resolved in try thop Bitters; I have used seven bottles; the hardness has all gone from my liver, the swelling from my limbs, and it has worked a miracle in my case; otherwise I would have been now in my grave.

Poverty and Suffering.

"I was dragged down with debt, poverty and suffering for years, caused by a sick family and large bills for dectoring.

I was completely discouraged, until one year ago, by the advice of my postor. I commenced using Hop Bitters, and in one month we were all well, and none of us have seen a sick day since, and I want to sa to all poor men, you can keep your families well a year with Hop Bitters for less than one doctor's visit will cost. I know it."
